Autism Acceptance Week

April 2, 2024
April 8, 2024

Let's celebrate and embrace autism together.

What is Autism Acceptance Week?

In 2024, Autism Acceptance week runs from the 2nd to the 8th of April (also known as Autism Awareness) This is a time to spread knowledge about Autism, learn more about Autism and celebrate Autism.

ELFT NHS Trust has created a special 'drop in event' especially for parents to Mark 'Autism Acceptance' week

Drop-in session:

When?

Thursday 4th of April 10.30-12.30

Where?

Reception, West Ham Lane Health Centre, 84 West Ham Lane, London, E15 4PT

What will you find?

Come along to speak to highly specialist Speech and Language therapists, who will offer advice about speech and language strategies to support autistic children and young people, and answer your questions about autism.

There will be a stall with leaflets about various strategies, such as intensive interaction, and examples of resources (e.g. core boards, visual timetables) with information on how to use them. You can take these leaflets home with you!

Resources

In celebration of this week please spend some time this week watching these videos on strategies to support autistic children.

Turn over for useful resources

Visual supports

The video linked below via QR code talks about what visual supports are, and demonstrates how to use a Now/Next board with children who have communication difficulties.

Intensive interaction

The video linked below via QR code talks about what intensive interaction is, why we use it, and demonstrates how to use intensive interaction with your child.

Vocabulary core boards

The video linked below via QR code talks about what core vocabulary boards are, why you may have been recommended to use one, and how to introduce a core vocabulary board to your child.

Please remember that you can visit the ELFT SCYPS Newham Youtube channel to watch some more videos about strategies to support your child's communication. We also have videos available in Bengali.

Just type: 'ELFT SCYPS Newham' into the Youtube search bar to find us!

More interesting resources

If you have not already seen this beautiful video called 'Amazing Things Happen', please take a few minutes to enjoy it. It is a family-friendly video which describes what autism is, and the differences that autistic people may experience.
